DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-17 and 21-29 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, Claims 1-17 and 27-28, drawn to a recombinant microorganism having an inactivated first peptidyltransferase and a second peptidyltransferase inducible by an antibiotic and a method of detecting antibiotic activity using said microorganism.

Group II, Claims 21-24, drawn to a method making a microorganism having an inactivated first peptidyltransferase and a second peptidyltransferase inducible by an antibiotic.

Group III, Claims 25-26, drawn to a method of isolating an antibiotic.

Group IV, Claim 29, drawn to a kit comprising a microorganism having an inactivated first peptidyltransferase and a second peptidyltransferase inducible by an antibiotic and a means for assessing cell viability.

For Invention I above, restriction to one of the following is also required under 35 USC 121. Therefore, election is required of one of Inventions I-V and, if Invention I is elected, one of Inventions (A)-(B) and one of Inventions (C)-(E).

If Invention I is elected, elect one of:

- (A.) Ribosomal peptidyltransferase
- (B.) Non-ribosomal peptidyltransferase

If Invention I is elected, elect one of:

- (C.) vanHAX
- (D.) vanA
- (E.) vanX

The inventions listed as Group I relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they comprise the same or corresponding special technical feature, a recombinant microorganism having an inactivated first peptidyltransferase and a second peptidyltransferase inducible by an antibiotic and the use thereof for detecting antibiotic activity. The products of Group IV are not so linked to Group I as to be encompassed by said single general inventive concept because said products do not share a common structure and function with the product of Group I. The methods of Groups II-III are not so linked to Group I as to be encompassed by said single general inventive concept because said methods do not share the same modes of operation, functions, or effects of the methods of Group I.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all the inventions listed above lack unity of invention under PCT Rule 13.1 and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;

(e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

To insure that each document is properly filed in the electronic file wrapper, it is requested that each of amendments to the specification, amendments to the claims, Applicants' remarks, requests for extension of time, and any other distinct papers be submitted on separate pages.

It is also requested that Applicants identify support, within the original application, for any amendments to the claims and specification.
